

Engagement Training

Is your organisation looking to engage members of the local community in projects or activities? Mapping for Change can provide bespoke engagement training to equip you with the skills needed to reach communities.

We have provided engagement training for organisations across Europe. Training is provided through workshops, which can be tailored to address your specific requirements.

Get in touch to find out more: email info@mappingforchange.org.uk or call 020 7241 6625

Mapping for Change provide a training workshop for Eco21.pl - a participatory model of local sustainable development for Silesian-Cracow Europol.

Bespoke curriculum. Mapping for Change can author and facilitate a unique curriculum to equip your organisation with the skills and methods required for your projects.

Unique learning materials. We can design and produce exclusive learning materials to complement our workshops. These can be used to extend our training to further individuals in the future.

International availability. Depending on your requirements, we can provide training in your local area.

Get in touch to find out more: email info@mappingforchange.org.uk or call 020 7241 6625