

Online Mapping Platforms for Councils

Make the shift to digital consultation, and engage citizens in efficient and transparent decision-making.

In 2014 we created our new Community Maps platform, based on state-of-the-art web development technologies. It offers seamless digital consultation, reducing time, money and energy spent on traditional methods.

Open, flexible and engaging. Community Maps enables councils to consult citizens on any local decision or process. From cycling infrastructure to new homes, or even green spaces, Community Maps can provide bespoke data collection forms adapted to your requirements.

All levels of citizen engagement. Through Community Maps, Mapping for Change can facilitate any level of citizen engagement, depending on your council's needs. We can develop an entire participatory platform, organise simultaneous paper mapping workshops, or simply offer an initial ICT consultation.

Your look and feel. Community Maps offers your council a unique, branded interface. We can also provide custom icons to display data on the map.

Data privacy. You don't have to make all your data public. With Community Maps you can select which data will be accessible to the wider public.

Easy to use. Residents can use Community Maps immediately without installing anything. Community Maps has been optimised for mobile devices, and supports most modern browsers.

Hosting. There is no need for you to install anything. Whichever way you want to visualise or analyse your data, we can provide exports to the format your software requires. We host your site on our servers and take care of maintenance and upgrades.
